

Award in Understanding Stewarding at Events

Level 2 :: 40glh :: 5 credits

A comprehensive introduction to the role of steward at spectator events, this programme will enable learners to develop knowledge and understanding of the key issues concerning spectator control.

Who is it for?

The Level 2 Award in Understanding Stewarding at Spectator Events is ideal for learners, aged 16 or over, who are either working as stewards already (possibly in a voluntary, casual or part-time capacity) who wish to seek recognition for their existing skills and competence, or those who wish to move into such a role. It is also an ideal qualification for anyone either considering a career in event management, or looking to obtain a nationally accredited qualification to improve their career prospects.

What are the benefits of doing this course?

The qualification has been developed in close association with SkillsActive, the Sector Skills Council (SSC) for the UK Active Leisure and Learning sector. This qualification is also mapped to the 2004 Key Skills standards and can be used to develop learners' literacy and language skills. It offers benefits to both learners and to employers in this sector:

- Existing and potential stewarding staff will gain confidence in carrying out stewarding duties. They will develop an understanding of how to deal with emergency situations safely and calmly, and ensure the safe movement of people at events.
- Employers can be confident that they have a competent workforce and employees who work to industry standards and who are capable of dealing with a range of situations, including emergencies.
